AM01 - Alarm Requirement

We will not pay any claim for theft, attempted theft, malicious damage or vandalism at the home unless you have an intruder alarm fitted to the home.

The intruder alarm must:

1. Be installed by a company regulated by the National Security Inspectorate (NSI) which incorporates the National Approval Council for Security Systems (NACOSS) or a company regulated by the Security Systems and Alarm Inspection Board (SSAIB).
2. Be put into full operation whenever you, your family or an authorised person is not present at the home, and if the alarm is key operated the keys must be removed to a place of safety and not left in view.
3. Be put into full operation when you and your family or any authorised person staying at the home, go to bed.
4. Be maintained in full working order under an annual maintenance contract with an appropriate alarm maintenance company or installer regulated by the National Security Inspectorate (NSI) which incorporates the National Approval Council for Security Systems (NACOSS) or a company regulated by the Security Systems and Alarm Inspection Board (SSAIB). We may require evidence of the maintenance agreement in the event of a claim.

You must:

1. Inform the intruder alarm company immediately of any fault discovered in the alarm system.
2. Inform us immediately of any written notification from the police authorities or private security firm if applicable, about the withdrawal or possible withdrawal of their response to alarm calls.
