

The Coronavirus Portal by rradar

What's new this week

> Click here to log in and register to read the full articles

Coronavirus and changes to road transport rules

To mitigate the effects of COVID-19, the EU has made temporary changes to the road transport rules applying to operators and drivers of heavy goods vehicles and public service vehicles. Find out what these changes are and how they affect you in our new article.

Coronavirus - Redundancy process for under 20 employees

As the furlough scheme starts to enter its wind-down phase, employers will have to think about how they will handle workforce issues once the scheme ends. Whether redundancy is on the agenda or not, all businesses need to know the legalities.

Care Quality Commission - Coronavirus emergency support framework

The Care Quality Commission (CQC) suspended inspection visits with the onset of the coronavirus outbreak and since then has been working on a remote basis. It has set up an Emergency Support Framework for service providers. To find out more about this new initiative, read our new article.

Coronavirus - Redundancy process for over 20 employees

As the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme starts to wind down, employers will have to start considering how to handle workforce issues once the scheme ends. Whether you are thinking about redundancy or not, you need to know the legal aspects of it. Our new article gives you the details.

Choosing hand sanitiser for the workplace

Face masks and hand sanitiser have become symbols of the coronavirus pandemic and now they are playing their part in the safe reopening of workplaces as the lockdown eases. But how can employers ensure they source the right products and use them correctly? Our new article gives you more details.

Pay for returning travellers during Coronavirus

If employees taking annual leave during the COVID-19 pandemic choose to holiday abroad, their employer needs to know how to deal with them when they return and go into the mandatory self-isolation. How will this affect their pay? Our new article gives you the details you need.

Employment Tribunal - road map for hearings after Coronavirus

A new road map for how Tribunal hearings will be dealt with as the COVID-19 crisis develops has been issued. If you are in the middle of the tribunal process and want to know what is going to happen with the system, read our new article for details.

rradar

The Coronavirus Portal by rradar

What's new this week

> Click here to log in and register to read the full articles

Working in or from vehicles - Managing visitors and customers

If you work in or from vehicles, and you are planning to reopen your business as the lockdown restrictions ease, you will need to be aware of how to safely manage visitors and customers. Our new article gives you the guidance you need.

Working in or from vehicles - Who should go to work?

The Government's COVID-19 guidance includes recommendations on working remotely. Those employees who work in or from vehicles are unlikely to be able to work remotely, so employers need to make plans to ensure their safety and wellbeing. Find out what you should be doing in our new article.

Working in or from vehicles - Cleaning the workplace

Businesses reopening as lockdown restrictions ease and whose employees work in or from vehicles need to be aware of how to keep their vehicles clean and hygienic to protect their workers and the public and reduce the risk of infection and transmission. Find guidance and advice in our new article.

What is the Infection Control Fund?

Businesses reopening as lockdown restrictions ease and whose employees work in or from vehicles need to be aware of how to keep their vehicles clean and hygienic to protect their workers and the public and reduce the risk of infection and transmission. Find guidance and advice in our new article.

Working in or from vehicles - PPE and face coverings

If your business involves working in or from vehicles, then you will need to know what the law requires of you as you start to reopen for work. One significant aspect is that of PPE and, in particular, face coverings. Find out what this involves in our new article.

Working in or from vehicles - Social distancing

While the alert level is reducing and lockdown restrictions are easing, social distancing is still recommended to reduce the risk of COVID-19 transmission. If you or your staff work in or from vehicles, specific safeguards apply and our new article tells you about them.

Coronavirus and the Corporate Insolvency and Governance Bill

The COVID-19 crisis had put many businesses in danger of insolvency and collapse. In order to protect those businesses who are struggling to survive, the Corporate Insolvency and Governance Bill has been introduced. Find out what it says and how it may affect you in our new article.

rradar

The Coronavirus Portal by rradar

What's new this week

> Click here to log in and register to the read the full articles

Coronavirus, furlough and TUPE

COVID-19 has had significant effects on employment law and HR guidance. One such area with indirect implications is TUPE, the regulations surrounding the transfer of employees between businesses. If this applies to you, read our new article to find out how coronavirus and furlough will affect matters.

Flexible furlough leave

On 12th June, the Government published its guidance on flexible furloughing through the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme, setting out the way forward for the scheme until it is phased out. To find out what this involves and how to administer it correctly, read our new article.

Coronavirus support schemes and fraud

As furlough and support schemes designed to help businesses survive the COVID-19 crisis start to wind down, HMRC will have time to start looking at fraudulent and erroneous claims made under these schemes. To find out this may mean for businesses, read our new article.

rradar